LIVERMORE is doing well. Oil well.

Mr. Young is requested to rise and explain.

The Grand Army boys had a big time in Sacramento last night.

O. R. THREELICK is the new Post-office Inspector at Los Angeles.

All the young warriors in the country are spoiling for a chance to jump on Mexico's neck.

ANOTHER rate war is said to be impending, and the passenger agents are whetting their trusty blades.

This is pretty good weather for paving streets. It would be refreshing to see a little work of that sort done.

It is likely that Tilden's will will be contested. His relatives contend that he was not mentally competent to make a will.

The cutting seems to be aiming down. The prisoner has the cheerful prospect of lying in jail several months while Bayard writes letters.

The capital grounds at Sacramento are to be decorated to the tune of $3000 in honor of the Grand Army of the Republic, the expense to be borne by the Commonwealth.

SECRETARY LAMAR has ordered the restoration of a grand-daughter of Thomas Jefferson, who was dismissed from the Patent office. He did it on behalf of the name.

SARAH ALTHEA's spifful tilt at the Supreme Court costs the State $1,200. Even the Wild Rose of Sharon didn't get a dollar's worth of fun out of the result, and the colt goes for entirely defunct equine.

The Times of next Sunday will be a Grand Army edition, and a large one. The issue will contain a mass of valuable facts about the city and county, and a lot of other good reading. Orders for extra copies should be sent to the office early.

The howshaw editor of the swash buckling morning contemp, unable to comprehend the very patent fact that he is not in a position to say personally offensive things? that, in fact, he lives in a glass house of the most fragile description? Fools, however, sometimes rash in where angels fear to tread.

A REPUBLICAN paper gets back on the "Examiner" after this style: "The Examiner has been howling about turnfoufle because out with such persons as the Republicans, legislative, acting on its suggestion, has obliged the Examiner proprietor, Uncle George Hearst, to walk the plank, and give way to a worthy Republi-

THE Tombstone operator has made another sixty cents. This time he sets forth that the Mexicans have disarmed Capt. Lawton, and made his command prisoners. Lawton is one of the boldest and most determined men in the frontier forces, and it is apt to be a dire misfortune if the Indians are to be a match for him. Gen. Miles says there is not a word of truth in the tale. No one supposed there was.

MONDAY next will be "Los Angeles Day"—the day particularly set apart by the Queen of the Southern Coast for the formal reception of the veterans who will visit her on their way home from the Grand Army Encampment in San Francisco. While she will welcome, with true Southern California hospitality, all who shall arrive before that date, Monday will be devoted especially to their entertainment and to doing them the honors in royal shape. It should be made a general holiday for the city. Places of business should be closed and the streets duly decorated. If Los Angeles fully grasps the importance of the situation, these things will be done. We think his Honor the Mayor would officially recommend the closing of business houses if properly applied to for that purpose.

On "Los Angeles Day," when our city shall again have the honor of welcoming to her midst the surviving army of our country's defenders, let a place be set apart for the children of the city, so that they may receive from the welcome accorded these veterans the lessons which the occasion will teach of the honor due to loyalty and patriotism, and the earnestness in which we hold the memory of their devotion to the Government, which, through their heroic deeds, has been preserved to us and to our children. No words that we can speak to our children will so deeply impress them as the sight of these battle-scarred heroes receiving our welcome of gratitude and honor. It will be an object lesson that they will not forget; it will make them for a new page in the history of their country, and the great war of the rebellion, with its unwritten story of bravery, of sacrifice and of enduring courage, will no longer seem a dim and shadowy fact of history in which they had no part, but a grand triumph won by heroes whom they have seen, and whom they, too, have helped to honor. It will be an opportunity such as we may never have again of impressing upon the children of the rising generation the difference between treason and loyalty. The lines in this respect are not sufficiently drawn in the texts books and teachings that are accorded them for their instruction. But we have a suitable place in the reception to be extended by Los Angeles to this remnant of the Grand Army of the Republic, and they will learn well what was, and what they owe to those who fought the battles for freedom and the right. The story of the great struggle will have fresh interest for them. They will learn its history, study its meaning, and measure its results with frankness, quickened by the example of their participation in the war. When Los Angeles sets the nation to the task of the regeneration

A GRAND BANQUET TO THE VETERANS.

The Senate Summarily Shelves a Resolution on the Cutting Affair—The Assembly Passes Two Bills.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 12.—A banquet was tendered this evening by the Mayor and citizens to members of the G. A. R., now visiting this city. The members of the Legislature now in session attended in body. Speeches were made by Gen. Logan, Commander-in-Chief Fairchild and others.

LEGISLATIVE PROCEEDINGS.

Senate.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 11.—The Senate met at 1 o'clock.

Mr. Kellogg offered a resolution to take a recess from 12 m. to 3 p.m., in order to enable a force of men to clean the Senate chamber, dust the draperies and wash the paintings in honor of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The motion was carried.

A message was received from the Assembly announcing the passage of the bill to repeal section 1422 of the Civil Code.

DeVall moved to place the bill on file without reference to a committee.

Pending a vote recess intervened.

On reassembling the bill was filed.

A dispute arose as to whether or not the Assembly constitutional amendment No. 7 should go to file, and on roll call the bill was referred to a committee by Gen. Saxe.

Mr. Saxe's No. 12 defining riparian rights and authorizing the appropriation of surplus waters only was then ordered read a second time.

The bill was postponed.

The question on postponing Mr. Saxe's bill was then put and the roll called, resulting in its being carried. Ayes 22, noes 13.

Mr. Spenser then moved that all bills on water supply and irrigation be postponed until Monday, and laid the motion was carried.

Mr. Kellogg moved to postpone that bill until Monday at 2:30, giving as a reason the impending reception of the bill.

The bill was postponed. Ayes 25, noes 9.

The question on postponing Mr. Saxe's bill was then put and the roll called, resulting in its being carried. Ayes 22, noes 13.

Mr. Spenser then moved that all bills on water supply and irrigation be postponed until Monday, and laid the motion was carried.

Mr. Kellogg offered the following:

"WHEREAS, The Mexican authorities of the state of Sonora have captured the heads of the law of the United States, arrested, tried, convicted and sentenced to prison for the offense of aiding and abetting the rebels; and WHEREAS, The bill, entitled 'An Act to宜mit the trial of offenders against the existing treaty between the United States and Mexico, therefore,

Resolved, That the bill be passed."

The bill was read a third time, and the bill was carried.

The bill was postponed.

One of the best things that has been exhibited at the Art Fair was a portrait of Miss G. G. Bartelle, of San Francisco. It is a bold piece of work and shows the artist's study both in color and in form. It is a portrait of a young girl. The artist promises for this young artist if she bears praise as well as her own bears paint. Miss Bartelle has a studio and class in Hollen block below.
